THE PLACE OF CHILDREN IN OUR SUNDAY MASS

The 11.00am Mass on Sunday mornings has for a long time been known as the 'Family Mass'. This came from a time, before the pandemic, when families were very much more in evidence at this Mass. Family numbers have been slowly increasing over the last few months. It is wonderful to see! For a long time, the 'Children's Liturgy' has also been part of the 11.00am Mass. Again, strong numbers attended before Covid. Slowly, we have been seeing a recovery. We have been very blessed to have good, committed and faithful parishioners at both Our Lady's and St Jerome's, who for many years have taught the Scripture to our children and accompanied them. May the Lord reward them for their generosity!

I have been reflecting for a long time on how best to make our children's experience of Sunday Mass more meaningful and fruitful. Many have asked me, over the years, whether removing the children entirely from the community for a large part of the Mass is the best solution. 'Why can't the children be more directly involved in the Mass itself?' 'Aren't we giving the impression that the children are unwelcome at an adult celebration, taking them away because they get quickly bored and so become a distraction?' Others, especially some parents, have expressed appreciation for a time set aside in a child friendly environment, where the children can learn something of the Word of God, appropriate for their own age. These are all good questions and important points of view. But times are changing. One example of our new reality are the more stringent requirements for safeguarding, and restrictions on who can and cannot be present in the meeting room when the children are present.

I have come to the realisation that there is a deeper issue that needs to be addressed. The place of children in the celebration of the Mass itself. The celebration of the Sunday Eucharist is THE community event, THE most important time of the week and THE place where we come as close to God and one another as we ever can in this life. Every word, every action and every gesture of the Mass carries weight and profound meaning. Such is the grace and power of this Sacred Celebration, that we are given all we need and more, to live happier, more fulfilled, meaningful and joyful lives. This is the inheritance that we are handing on to our children. Children see and hear everything. They notice every movement of their parents, every joy, every sorrow, every change of mood. It is from their parents, or from those who bring them to Mass, that they learn the Mass itself. They learn to pray, to be reverent, to listen, to be open, to sense the presence of God and to be more aware of their neighbour. They imitate what they see and a deep impression is made on their hearts. This takes time, patience, understanding. It is a task of years, not months. But it forms, directs and changes young lives.

I feel the time is right to try a different way of including our children in the celebration of Mass on Sunday morning. It demands a change of outlook and culture on the part of all of us. Firstly, our children are a precious and wonderful gift from the Lord, not only for their parents, but for the entire community. 'Let the little ones come to me' said Jesus. 'Do not stop them, for of such is the Kingdom of heaven'. Our children are not problems to be solved, but privileged bearers of the presence of God.

In the first place, I want every parent to feel welcome, loved and comfortable at each and every celebration of Mass. Do our parents feel that they have to stay at the back of church because their children might disturb the Mass? Bring them to the front. There is much more going on there visually that the children can see and engage with. Do parents feel that they are being judged, looked at or criticised if their child is noisy? Maybe. But we all need to grow in patience and gratitude that our children are with us.

I want to try a new path. On the third Sunday of Advent, our 11.00am Mass will directly involve our children in the celebration. We are planning the Mass at the moment. The meeting room gathering will be suspended for the time being, as we seek to grow this new idea. I want our children to be seen, involved and welcomed. Let's see if it works.

But above all, I want to encourage a change of culture and a change of outlook. If children are genuinely welcomed with their parents, if families feel that they are a privileged part of our community, if we show by our words and actions that we are delighted that they are among us, then surely more will feel that they too can find a home in our church and in our community. This is a task for each and every one of us. Are we willing to try, to perhaps step a little outside our comfort zone and rejoice with the families the Lord sends us? If so, I believe we will see great fruit in our community.

Please pray for this new approach and ask the Lord to bless it with success.

Fr John
